

Instructions:

1. Print page. In print dialog, select 'Actual size'.

2. Verify scale of printed page by comparing ruler at left with an actual ruler.

3. Fold King Rings ruler along center line.

4. Cut out King Rings ruler.

5. Place a 2 in. (5cm) piece of tape lengthwise on the zero end of the paper ruler. One half on the paper, the other end flapping loose.

6. While you are flaccid and warm (things are hanging loosely), lay the ruler atop the root of your penis right where it meets your pelvis. The 4 green bands should be on top and visible, centered on your shaft.

7. Tuck the right side of paper ruler around and behind your scrotum.

8. Wrap the left side of ruler all the way around (behind scrotum) and back over the top.

9. Stack the 0 green line over the size line you would like to simulate and adhere the tape.

10. Test ring through erection and loss of erection. You will likely experience some discoloration, that's ok. Your erection may take longer to relax than usual, that's ok too. If paper ring is too tight just tear it off and try again.
